

Home Page

For KLYVOREK, asking an officer to navigate to Pricing, compare plans, and then discover the trial introduces unnecessary friction. Current SaaS conversion guidance consistently favors a single, obvious primary CTA repeated across the homepage, with pricing or a demo as the secondary path.

I would structure the hero like this:

KLYVOREK: AI Built for Law Enforcement

Secure by Design. Simple to Use. Affordable to Deploy.

Turn officer-provided facts into clear incident reports, organized investigative documentation, and structured warrant drafts.

Create My First Report Free

The ideal journey is:

Homepage → Start My Free Trial → very short signup → KLYVOREK dashboard → create first report.

Your objective should be getting the officer to the first successful document as quickly as possible. Free-trial onboarding guidance emphasizes reducing the time between signup and the user's first meaningful result.
